

FINANCE AND WAR ARE THE THEMES

HEAVY ARGUMENTS IN THE SENATE YESTERDAY.

Mr. Wolcott Condemns the Davis Resolution—Senators Sherman, Teller and Others Meet in Silver Debate—Customs Resolutions on America—Washington News.

Washington, Jan. 22.—Senator Wolcott addressed the senate yesterday in opposition to the position of the administration in the Venezuelan controversy and the definition of the Monroe doctrine given in the Davis resolution. After referring to the message of President Cleveland and the appointment of the commission to enlighten the country as to the true divisional line separating Venezuela and British Guiana the senator said that under the circumstances it would ordinarily seem to be the part of wisdom to refrain from the present further public comment on a subject of so sensitive and delicate a character. The resolution which the committee on foreign relations had reported, the effect of which might be most far-reaching, as affecting our policy and relations toward other friendly governments, required some discussion and careful investigation. Continuing, he said:

"President Monroe protested not against despotic government, but against its forcible extension by the dreadful holy alliance in this western world, of which he stood in well-grounded fear. Congress had failed to give the Monroe doctrine official sanction, and when a congressional resolution respecting Panama was under discussion Congress expressly refused to commit itself to the Monroe doctrine in any form.

"The passage of the resolution reported by the committee at this time can do no good and perhaps little harm, but their introduction only adds another faggot to the fire which ought not to be permitted to burn longer. From a point of view which I am presenting, the diplomatic correspondence was, on our side, unnecessarily irritating, the message of the President ill-advised, and the creation of a commission with no facilities for investigation not shared by us all, and without invitation by the parties in interest, was hasty and premature. We have made it infinitely more difficult for Great Britain to accept arbitration by our demonstrative diplomacy and volunteer commission and we are drifting into a position where Great Britain's refusal to arbitrate, and she may lawfully refuse, will be considered not as demanding from us a dignified and earnest protest."

Mr. Hansbrough (Rep., N. D.) sought to secure recognition for his remarks criticizing the course of the secretary of agriculture, but the subject went over by an objection.

At 2 o'clock the bond silver bill was taken up, Mr. Teller continuing his remarks. The senator said gold was now at a premium. The banks had practically suspended payment of gold. It was a commodity, bought and sold, just like corn or wheat. But while the banks suspended gold payments the treasury insisted on such payments. And this condition has come without silver legislation.

Mr. Allen asked Mr. Teller if he agreed with his party associates that the industrial depression was due to tariff legislation. Mr. Teller replied that he did not.

Mr. Allen further asked if Mr. Teller thought any real difference existed between the Republicans and Democrats on the financial question.

Mr. Teller said the difference was so slight as hardly to be detected on the gold question. The senator, proceeding, said that the gold element in the senate and in the country had never yet presented a monetary system. The four senators representing the gold element on the finance committee had never offered a system. Mr. Teller arraigned the policy of issuing bonds with a view, he said, to building up a permanent bonded debt to be borne by posterity.

The silver discussion, said Mr. Sherman, was purely a moot discussion. No doubt there was a silver majority in the senate, but the country had settled down to the idea that free silver coinage would bring us to a single standard of silver and was undesirable. State after state had taken this position. The use of both metals, the bimetallic system, was being accepted as the best. Under these circumstances, continued Mr. Sherman, the thrashing of this worn-out old question, which could not hope to succeed in the present congress, was unwise in the present emergency of the treasury. It was absolutely certain that this silver amendment if passed would be rejected by the house. Why thus obstruct the relief imperatively needed by the government? The deficiency had caused the trouble and the house had offered an emergency tariff bill to overcome that deficiency. Such relief should not be delayed and obstructed by thrashing out an old worn subject.

Mr. Cockrell asked if Mr. Sherman meant to say that the relief as proposed was what the executive had asked.

Mr. Sherman said it was not for the executive to determine upon the nature of revenue legislation. That was for the house of representatives under the constitution. It was not for the President to say what was the best form of relief. It was sufficient that the house

A PROTEST ENTERED AGAINST JAPANESE

THE AMERICAN MANUFACTURERS FEAR THEIR RIVALRY.

Convention at Chicago Petitions Congress Against The Cheap Labor of The Orient—The Waterways Discussion—Nicaragua Canal—Other Business Transacted.

Chicago, Jan. 22.—There was a much larger attendance at the meeting of the National Manufacturers' association yesterday than on the day previous and a considerably larger delegation from Chicago. The delegation from St. Louis was swelled by a number arriving early in the morning. There are now thirty-five from that city, the largest delegation from one city in the convention.

At the opening of the assembly the president read a telegram from the Spanish St. Louis club, as follows: "Let our only war with England be a commercial war, with a flying squadron of our manufacturers in every foreign market." The telegram was received with applause.

The report of the special committee appointed to inquire into manufacturing industries of the far east and particularly in Japan was next read by C. Heber Clark of Philadelphia, chairman of the committee. This question of competition with Japan promises to be the most important matter the convention will have to deal with. The report of the committee outlined the great competitive address. He strongly urged the country is now brought with the oriental nations, the low price paid for workmen and recites reports from newspapers and foreign consuls reiterating the statements that the goods are being shipped to America, where they are sold at lower prices than the raw material can be bought for.

In conclusion the report says: "There can be no concealment of the fact that some of our manufacturing industries are gravely menaced by this rivalry of a country where skilled labor may be had at a cost of 10 cents or 15 cents a day, or less than one-tenth of the cost of such labor in our own country. We, therefore, recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

"Resolved, by the National Association of American Manufacturers, in convention assembled in Chicago, Jan. 22, 1896, That the congress of the United States is hereby respectfully requested to appoint a commission, or to direct one of its own committees, to inquire respecting the alleged invasion of our market and the menace offered to American manufacturing industry by the products of cheap oriental labor and to determine what is the cause of this menace and what means should be adopted to avert the threatened injury to domestic producers."

Chairman Fred S. Fish made the report of the committee on resolutions. In the report the committee favors the construction of the Nicaragua canal by the federal government and calls the attention of the assembly to the fact that if the United States authorities would construct a canal from the great lakes to the Mississippi it would greatly facilitate transportation. The resolutions as adopted are practically the same as were adopted at the Cincinnati convention last year.

The first debate of the convention arose over a resolution presented by Charles Davis of Cincinnati, and for some time it promised to take up unnecessarily considerable time of the convention. The resolution was as follows:

"Whereas, Many of the states of the Union have passed certain laws to the effect that all foreign corporations shall file with the secretary of state a certificate of incorporation and pay into the treasury of said states certain fees and impose certain objectionable features,

"Resolved, That the executive committee be empowered to take such action as in their judgment may seem wise to secure uniformity and remove from same said objectionable features."

Warner Miller was the first to question the wisdom of passing such a resolution, and in the course of his remarks on the subject asked if the gentleman who introduced the resolution would kindly inform him what he was "whacking at." Mr. Davis explained at some length, saying the object was to secure uniformity of laws.

Warner Miller made a motion to refer the resolution back to the committee on resolutions to be put into better shape. The resolution was adopted.

The report of the majority and the minority of the committee on revision of the constitution provoked discussion and may be taken up again to-day. The clause which caused the discussion was that of membership. The minority report was for depriving manufacturing clubs or state clubs of representation and permitting only individual firms or corporations to have a vote in the convention. The report of the majority was favorable to the clubs and societies.

At 12:30 o'clock President Dolan presented Prof. S. Waterhouse of the Washington university of St. Louis, who, he said, would address the assembly on "The Nicaragua Canal." But the convention did not want it that way and arose in a mass to leave the hall. In vain did President Dolan rap for order and, finally, as a last resort, adjourned the meeting to 3 o'clock, when Prof. Waterhouse delivered his address.

A CHILD MURDERER SAVED FROM A MOB

INDIANA CITIZENS FORM A LYNCHING BEE.

Albert Tollis, the Brutal Slayer of His Eight Months' Old Child, Threatened With Death—Murder in a Court Room in Waukegan—Lynching Talked Of.

Fowler, Ind., Jan. 23.—Albert Tollis, the alleged Brook child murderer, was brought to this city early Wednesday morning and lodged in jail by Sheriff Morgan and a posse of Newton county. Tollis is charged with having choked his own child to death and was brought here to escape the vengeance of a mob which threatened to storm the Newton county jail at Kentland and lynch him.

Sunday night the neighbors of Tollis were attracted to his house by the screams of Mrs. Tollis. On arriving they found her scaling on the floor holding in her arms an 8-months-old babe, from whose nose and mouth the blood was flowing, while the husband and father sat on a rocking chair and puffed industriously at a clay pipe. Tollis explained that he had been disturbed from his sleep by the child's crying and had tried to pacify it by gently holding his hand over its mouth and said it would be all right as soon as its nose stopped bleeding. Some one called a physician, who, after an examination, said the child had been choked and was in a serious condition.

Tollis only escaped lynching at that time by being arrested and taken to Kentland. Monday morning he was given a preliminary examination and held to await the result of the child's injuries. The babe died Tuesday morning and the charge of murder in the first degree was placed against him. All day Tuesday excited throngs gathered about the streets of the little village of Brook and discussed the case. Lynching was freely agitated and the more it was discussed the stronger grew the sentiment against the prisoner. Shortly after dark an organization was perfected and arrangements made to go to Kentland. Sheriff Morgan, however, had expected this, and sent a courier to Brook early in the day to watch and report any move made by the excited populace.

The courier returned to Kentland about 9 o'clock at night and reported the situation. Tollis was placed, in a carriage and brought to this city. On the road he joked with his custodians and was by far the least excited man in the party. He says he has done nothing wrong, and the baby's death is the result of an accident and not a murder. The mother is prostrated and refuses to tell how the injuries were inflicted. But public opinion is that the baby was deliberately murdered.

About three years ago a former child died under mysterious circumstances, and it is now claimed Tollis murdered it in a similar manner.

SILVER MEN CONFER.

Plans for the Formation of a New Party Being Perfected.

Washington, Jan. 23.—As a result of a conference held in Chicago several weeks ago by the presidents of the American Bimetallic league, the National Bimetallic union and the national silver committee, at which it was agreed to consolidate under the title of the American Bimetallic union, with Gen. A. J. Warner as president, the friends of silver to the number of 100 or more met at Willard's hall in this city Wednesday. In attendance were some of the most prominent advocates of the white metal, who met to discuss plans for the formation of a new political party and select a place for holding a national convention to nominate a presidential ticket, should the two old parties refuse to incorporate in their platforms a plank for the coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, and also to approve the consolidation of the leagues. The meeting was held behind closed doors. Gen. Warner was unanimously chosen permanent chairman and Prof. Gordon Clark was elected secretary. It is reported that the silver men will decide to meet in St. Louis on July 22, the place and date set for the populist convention, and attempt a combination upon a presidential ticket should the old parties neglect the silver sentiment.

Gen. Warner presided, and in calling the conference to order said the time had come for action. The fight must begin now and continue until election day next November. Silver men must get together as the gold men are together. The silver men were not antagonizing republicans, democrats or populists; they were fighting the gold men.

Editor Holden of the Cleveland Plain Dealer invited the silver men to hold their convention in his city. In the course of some remarks Mr. Holden said he did not think it necessary to forsake his party and added that, "If this be treason, make the most of it."

His speech gave rise to considerable discussion, and Joseph Battelle, a delegate from Vermont, in vigorous language gave the editor to understand that nobody was wanted in the conference who was not for free silver first and last. At night another session was held, at which a large number of delegates made speeches.

JAMES KEOGH DIES AT STURGOEN BAY

PROMINENT POLITICIAN IS CALLED HOME.

Denise the Result of Injuries Received in Saving His Family From their Burning Home Some Time Ago—The Best Known Politician in Door County.

Sturgeon Bay, Wis., Jan. 23.—[Special]—Hon. James Keogh, city attorney and ex-congressman, died this morning, of injuries received two weeks ago in rescuing his family from his burning residence. He was the most prominent politician in Door county, and was widely known.

Princess Henry Dead.

Battenberg Succumbs to an Attack of African Fever.

London, Jan. 23.—The Press Association has a dispatch from Cowes, Isle of Wight, saying that news has been received at Osborne that Prince Henry of Battenberg, husband of the Princess Beatrice of England, who went to Ashantee in a special capacity and contracted fever there, is dead.

Prince Henry was the third son of Prince Alexander of Battenberg, uncle of Ludwig IV., grand duke of Hesse. He married the Princess Beatrice in 1885. They have four children. He was born October 5, 1858, and was governor of the Isle of Wight and of Carlsbrook castle.

From the few details received it appears that the prince had a relapse while on board the British cruiser Blonde, on the way to Madeira. In spite of the efforts of the special surgeon the prince died at 9 o'clock in the evening. The Blonde then returned to Sierra Leone, west coast of Africa, from which place the news was cabled to the admiralty, and was by that department communicated to the queen and to the Prince of Wales. The queen and Princess Beatrice are prostrated with grief.

The first lord of the admiralty, the Hon. George J. Goschen, after consulting with the queen, has given instructions that the Blonde be ordered to bring the remains of the prince to England.

DEMAND THE BALLOT.

Washington, Jan. 23.—Delegates to the twenty-eighth annual convention of the National Woman's Suffrage Association, which opens to-day, have taken the capital by storm, and the headquarters are crowded with representative women, many of whom have traveled from far distant points in the south and the northwest and from the Pacific coast states. Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton, the veteran honorary president of the association, will not be able to attend, but she has promised Miss Anthony that she will send a letter to be read to the members.

The financial secretary's report, which has been approved by the executive committee, shows that the work of national organization during the last year necessitated the expenditure of less than $5,000.

Three Men Killed at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 23.—The bodies of three firemen from whom life had been crushed by falling floors were yesterday taken from the ruins of the A. S. Aloe & Co. building at 415 Broadway. Three others, slightly injured, were recovered during the night. This makes a total of three killed and six injured. The disaster was due to the rottenness of the timbers which held up the floors. Coroner Waite says he will make every effort to fix the responsibility for the disaster.

Charged with Bribery.

Columbus, O., Jan. 23.—A bomb was exploded in political circles here by the indictment of three ex-members of the legislature on charges of bribery. A true bill was found against ex-Senators John Geyer, ex-Senator Gear, and three counts against ex-Senator L. C. OHL. Gear and Geyer are Democrats and OHL a Republican. It is said other indictments are probable.

Caused by Conductor's Carelessness.

Sedalia, Mo., Jan. 23.—A disastrous wreck occurred on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad yesterday about 7 o'clock on Boonville Hill, about a mile distant from Boonville, between a north-bound freight and a south-bound passenger train. The engineer and fireman were killed, and five persons injured. It is said Conductor Harris caused the wreck by letting his watch run down and trying to get to Boonville ahead of the passenger train.

Constitutional Convention for Ohio.

Columbus, O., Jan. 23.—Senator Lansing yesterday introduced a joint resolution providing for a constitutional convention in Ohio, the question to be voted on by the people of the state at the next November election. The idea is to improve the instrument so as to take advantage of recent decisions of the State Supreme court relative to revenue legislation.

Jameson Sails for England.

Durban, Natal, Jan. 20 (Monday)—Dr. Jameson and his officers from Pretoria arrived here on a train at daybreak and were forthwith escorted on board the transport Victoria, which sailed for England.

THE NATIONAL BANKS.

Their Holdings of Gold Show a Material Increase.

Washington, Jan. 23.—The abstract from the reports made to the comptroller of the currency by the 3,706 national banks in the United States, showing their condition on Dec. 13, 1895, shows loans and discount amounted to $2,020,961,792, against $2,059,408,402 on Sept. 28, 1895, the date of the last report. The gold coin held by the national banks on Dec. 13 last amounted to $113,843,400, against $110,378,360 Sept. 28. The gold treasury certificates on hand amounted to $20,936,080, as compared with $21,525,930 on Sept. 28. The gold clearing house certificates aggregated $33,465,000, as compared with $31,021,000 at last report.

The silver treasury certificates amounted to $25,878,323, as compared with $22,914,180 in September. The total specie on hand on Dec. 13 was $206,712,410, as compared with $196,237,311 on Sept. 28. The United States certificates of deposit for legal tender notes on hand aggregated $31,440,000, as against $49,920,000 at the time of the September report. The report shows that between Sept. 28, 1895, and Dec. 13, the national banks increased their individual deposits from $1,701,653,521 to $1,720,550,241.

English Gold to Buy Bonds.

London, Jan. 23.—The Daily Telegraph's financial article says: "It is believed that English applications for the American loan will involve the export of £2,000,000 of gold within a week. Much, however, will depend on the news from Washington."

FARMERS ARE ALIVE ON 1896 ISSUES

HOT DISCUSSIONS MARK THE DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

Hon. Clinton Babbitt is Down on Silos—Fred L. Clemons on Flag Raising—Mrs. Milo Smith Tells of How Information Can Be Obtained.

There wasn't a seat left in P. of H. hall, Milton Junction, when the tenth annual farmer's convention was called to order. A. C. Powers took the chair with a few words on the importance of cooperation. He referred to the fundamental rule of the grange that provides for meeting together, talking together and working together and quoted the old axiom "He that is wise taketh counsel."

Prof. S. L. Maxson of Milton, read a paper on "Should Personal Property be Taxed." He believed all property should be taxed.
He believed taxes should be paid o churches and he believed the church would be more prosperous if this were the case. Mr. Maxson scored the owners of personal property who do not give up the value they hold.
The trouble is under the present system it comes back to the farmer and the people were being taxed double on account of holders of mortgages living in other states. Mr. Maxson thought that those that were the most able to should pay the largest tax, that the tax should be progressive instead of proportionate and at any rate not to favor one class of taxpayers more than another. B. Blais-dell read an able paper on the same subject.

Need of Organization.

Why farmers should organize was discussed by David Sayre. Only the social, moral and educational phases of the question was discussed, but these were dealt with most practically.
S. C. Carr followed Mr. Sayre with a declaration that the Patrons of Husbandry were striving for just the improvements that Mr. Sayre favored.

Farming as an occupation, Mrs. F. A.
Bleasdale declared, need not be exchanged for any other calling. The advantages of farm life were brightly painted.

Mr. Sayre, in the discussion that followed, echoed her sentiments and said that he would go to Fulton farmers before he would to Janesville store keepers for information on public questions.

General Topics at Each Meal.

Mrs. Milo Smith said that in her own home, at each meal, she made it a point to bring up some subject of general interest for discussion. Often she found it difficult but succeeded well enough so that the family lingered at the table for half an hour after the meal was ended. Farm questions were tabooed at such times.

"They can talk farming enough at other times," the speaker insisted.

Hon. Clinton Babbitt talked on "The Art of Producing and Selling Farm Products." He put himself on firm ground in the beginning by declaring that thought was freer and lips less bridled in the Milton Junction convention than in any convention in the state. Then he spent fifteen minutes stirring up gold bugs, silo advocates and those ill-advised people who swear by thorough-bred cows.

Babbitt Hopes For The Best.

"I really hope I am a christian. I don't know whether I'm a democrat or not, but I do hope I am a christian,"
he said in the course of a dissertation on the low price of potatoes under a "gold bug administration." It cost Mr. Babbitt a hundred bushels of potatoes this year to pay his pew rent, hence his righteous indignation.

J. G. Carr didn't have anything to say about potatoes but he did think that silos were good things. Two or three others took the same view.
David Walsh thought a cellar full of turnips was far better than a silo.

"But turnips are about 80 per cent water," said S. C. Carr.

"That saves pumpkin," then, "the quick witted turnip man shot back.

An open discussing of general farm topics followed. Benjamin Bleasdale declared that the state university dairy school was a bad thing in some respects. It had taught cheese makers so much about chemistry that they found how to use cotton seed oil instead of butter fat.

School Men Have The Floor.

Dr. J. B. Whiting was to have discussed "The Raising of the National Flag Over the Public Schools," but was unable to be present. His place was taken by Superintendent William Ross, who spoke forcibly on good influence of flag raising. He was followed by Superintendent David Throne, F. P. Starr and U. S. Mc-Kerrow, in a series of eloquent remarks.

Professor J. B. Borden talked of
"The Relations That Our High Schools Should Bear to Common Schools." He deplored the decline in influence of the district schools, and suggested as a remedy township instead of district schools, with four common schools and one high school in each township. One school board could manage the affairs of all the schools in the township, supervision could be closer and the grade of teachers higher. Another point he he dwelt upon especially was the need of employing none but loyal teachers; teachers from whom children will get an all-abiding sense of love for the American flag and American institutions.

Danger in Flag Raising.

F. L. Clemons, of Janesville, who was present as a visitor, was called upon, and made a stir, by declaring that he did not believe it would at all times be well to lay too great stress on compulsory flag-raising. He made his meaning more clear, by urging that not the flag, but the principles of right and liberty exemplified by the flag, were all important. He wanted no opportunity given here, as in Europe, to make "devotion to the flag" a cloak for governmental abuses.

Several speakers who followed, endorsed his sentiment, but laid great stress on the improbability of anybody in Rock county using the flag as a "stock in trade."

During the evening there were readings by Miss Allie Buiton and music by Miss Charlotte Maxson.

This Morning—Janesville Lodges
May Go on a Special Train—His Untimely Death Deeply Mourned In This City.

The funeral of Leod H. Becker will be held from the Presbyterian church at Freeport, Ill., at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, this arrangement being necessary owing to the fact that Mr.
Becker's parents cannot stand the journey to Janesville.

In all probability a delegation of Knights of Pythias and Masons will hire a special train and attend the sad ceremonies.

Mr. Becker's death, which occurred, as was briefly stated in The Gazette last night, at St. Joseph's hospital, Chicago, at 4:15 o'clock yesterday, was a great shock to Janesville people. No man in the Bower City had more friends than Leod H. Becker and no man stood higher in the public esteem. He possessed all the qualities that a man should possess to make him a man, and his death leaves a vacancy in Janesville's business and social circles that cannot soon be filled. Although his death had been expected, the anguish of the loved ones left behind cannot be less intense and to the widow and relatives, sincere sympathy will be extended.

Mrs. Becker, W. G. Wheeler and Mrs. Becker's father, H. S. Woodruff and Mr. Becker's brother, C. H.
Becker, of Dubuque, were at his bedside when the end came.

Mr. Becker came to Janesville some years ago from Freeport. For a time he was associated with Alexander Richardson in the shoe business; and still later opened a store of his own.
Some time ago Fred S. Woodruff became his partner, and "Becker & Woodruff, on the bridge," was one of the best known firms in southern Wisconsin. In politics Mr. Becker was an enthusiastic republican, and never tired of laboring in behalf of some friend, although he never had political aspirations of his own. Socially he was a great favorite, being a member of Janesville Lodge No. 55, F. and A. M., also of Janesville Commandery No. 2,
Knights Templar; a Past Chancellor
Commander of Oriental Lodge No. 22, Knights of Pythias, an Elk and an honorary member of the Rock County Caledonian society.

Besides his aged parents Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Becker of Freeport, he leaves two brothers and two sisters,
E. H. Becker of Ottawa, Iowa; Mrs.

Janesville Is Promised a Good Meeting if People Will Take Hold.

Janesville will have a first class farm institute March 3 and 4. A cooking school will be one of the features. Superintendent McKerron, of the farm institutes was seen by a Gazette reporter today and said:

"We are going to give you the best talent on the staff. Besides the regular Wisconsin force, we will have A. Schaubert, of New York, who will talk of barn building. Mr. Schaubert has a new plan, one that is thought to save one-third of the expense in raising large barns, and make barns in which hay and stock can be handled easier.

C. E. Chapman of Perville, New York, will talk on poultry raising. He is recognized as one of the foremost poultry experts in the country. Cooking school will be a feature of the institute if the ladies of Janesville and Rock County desire. The cooking school is in good hands and can be a most valuable feature.

WELL WORTH TELLING.

A Well-Known Senator Tells a Remarkable Story.

No Possible Doubt As to Its Absolute Truth.

From the High Standing of The Senator.

Higher the Position, More Interesting the Facts.

Our Readers Eager For Just Such Details.

Senator Frank Plumley, of Northfield, Vt., is a man of national reputation. No man today stands more prominently before the people of the state of Vermont than he.

A lawyer by profession, he was elected to the house of representatives in 1882, is trustee of schools, trustee of Northfield bank, and trustee of Norwich University (a military school under patronage of the United States government), has been trustee of the Montpelier seminary, chairman of the republican state convention in 1886, delegate at large to the republican national convention in 1888, was United States attorney for Vermont 1889 to 1894, and is now state senator.

Senator Plumley is well known throughout the United States, having been selected by the national republican committee as speaker to stump the state of Michigan for Blaine in 1884, and again in 1888 and 1892 he spoke through the west for the republican presidential candidate.

When he came out of the presidential campaign in '92, owing to overwork he was almost a complete nervous wreck.

To our representative the senator said:

"In the fall of 1892 I came out of the presidential campaign with my nervous system almost broken.

"Best and ordinary remedies did not assist me. Some of my personal friends advised me to take a course of Dr. Greene's medicine, which I did with entire success.

"I use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy for that exhaustion caused by long continued mental work, and think well of it."

We understand that Senator Plumley's cure is radical and complete, and while we congratulate the popular senator on his recovery, we cannot but add that this is a distinct triumph for that marvelous medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, which, owing to the high standing of Senator Plumley, and the fact that he is so widely known, will give Dr. Greene's Nervura a great boom.

The remedy deserves it, for it is in truth a most wonderful curer of disease, a restorative and invigorator which stands at the present day without a rival in making people well; a remedy which is always sure to cure to give health and strength, to make whoever uses it strong and vigorous.

This most valuable remedy is not a patent medicine and should not be classed as such, for it is the discovery and prescription of one of our leading specialists in nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of West 14th St., New York City. The doctor gives an added value to his great remedy by allowing all who desire to consult him without charge, either in person or through the mail.

The buyers estimate him at 700 pounds or better. He is worth going many miles to see. Mr. Goff, of Evansville, received about three car loads of tobacco at this place on Friday. Luxury in Flowers.

The luxury implied in the quantity of flowers used by one of the large perfumers of Cannes is almost beyond imagination. He uses yearly 140,000 pounds of orange flowers, 12,000 of casia flowers, the acacia from which most of the violet perfume is made; 140,000 pounds of rose leaves, 32,000 pounds of jasmine, 20,000 pounds of violets, besides rosemary, citron, thyme and other odoriferous plants in large proportion.

THE SURGEON'S KNIFE.
Once Believed to Be the Only Cure for Piles and Rectal Diseases.
A Better Way Now Discovered, Which Cures Every Form of Piles Without Pain or Inconvenience.

Many people suffer the pain, annoyance and often serious results from piles for years, and after trying the many lotions, salves, ointments and so called cures without cure or relief, give up the hope of a final cure, rather than submit to the intense pain and danger to life which a surgical operation involves.

Happily all this suffering is no longer necessary, since the discovery of the Pyramid Pile Cure; a remedy which is approved by the medical profession, as being absolutely safe, free from any trace of opiates, narcotic or mineral poisons and which may be depended upon as a certain cure (not merely relief) in any form of Piles, whether itching, blind, bleeding or protruding. Some of the hundreds of cures recently made are little short of marvelous, as a perusal of the following will demonstrate.

Major Dean, of Columbus, Ohio, says: I wish to add to the number of certificates as to the benefits derived from the Pyramid Pile Cure. I suffered from Piles for forty years and from Itching Piles for twenty years, and two boxes of the Pyramid Pile Cure has effectually cured me.

Dr. J. W. Megan, Leonardville, Kan., writes: I have used a box of Pyramid Pile Cure and received more benefit and relief than from any remedy I had used in the past twenty-two years.

James Jamerson, Dubuque, Iowa, says: I suffered from Piles for six years; have just used the Pyramid Pile Cure and am a well man.

Mrs. M. C. Hinkly, 601 Mississippi St., Indianapolis, Ind., says: Have since a sufferer from the pain and annoyance of Piles for fifteen years, the Pyramid Pile Cure and Pyramid Pills gave me immediate relief and in a short time a complete cure.

The Pyramid Pile Cure may be found at druggists at 50 cents and $1.00 per package. A book on cause and cure of Piles will be sent by mail, by addressing the Pyramid Drug Co., Albion, Mich.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

1806—William Pitt, the younger, British statesman, died; born 1759. The talented son of the great Chatham entered parliament at the age of 22. Two years later he became prime minister and had to contend against Fox, Burke, North and Sheridan. Being defeated in parliament, he appealed to the people with triumph and soon became the most powerful commoner in Europe. He died in 1806, and his premature death was attributed to vexation over the failure of coalitions against Napoleon and the victories of the French in the Ansterlitz campaign.

1813—George Clymer, "signer" for Pennsylvania, died at Morrisville, Pa.; born in Philadelphia 1739.

1836—Rev. Phillips Brooks, the celebrated preacher and Episcopal bishop of Massachusetts, died in Boston; born 1835.

1886—Dr. Alfred L. Loomis, noted medical professor and practitioner, in New York city; born 1831. General Stephen V. Benet, U. S. A. (retired), died in Washington; born 1827.

BELIEF IN SIGHT.

The unfortunate condition of things at Washington cannot last much longer. The time is closely approaching when there will be a clear majority of republican senators, and they will not hesitate to assume all responsibilities, and to shape legislation to make the principles of their party effective. Meanwhile the people should be patient. The work of restoring the republican party to full control of the government has not been finished. It is in steady and encouraging progress, with no doubt about the ultimate result, but there is still a period of waiting to pass through before the country can rejoice over the return of the good times that prevailed when the democratic party was out of power. The republicans in the senate will do all they can, of course, to promote the prosperity and welfare of all classes, and to mitigate the evils incident to the present transition stage of national politics; but not much can reasonably be expected of them, considering their lack of sufficient votes to carry out their purposes. They are responsible for their own actions, but not for those of the opposing elements that are strong enough in the aggregate to defeat anything that they propose. It will be well for all good citizens to keep this fact in mind, so that they may make no mistake in placing where it rightly belongs all blame for the failure of the senate, as now constituted, to perform its proper service as a legislative body.

PLENTY OF GOLD.

Gold is going out of the treasury and out of the country. At the same time gold is being collected by the bond bidders, and is all ready to be transferred to the treasury when the bids are accepted. The country need not be surprised if the offers of gold for bonds reach $150,000,000 or $175,000,000. Undoubtedly the amount offered will be so great that all uncertainty regarding the treasury's future will end and trade will receive a new and powerful stimulus.

Japan's new importance as a war like power has increased taxation 70 per cent, the amount to be raised this year reaching $120,000,000. But with a population of 45,000,000 and the rank of fifth in this respect, Japan will not find this excessive. A large part of the revenue will be invested in new ships and in maintaining an army of 200,000 men.

While the annual growth of the population of this country is about 2 1/2 per cent, that of the postal business is 2 per cent. The total sale of postage stamps, postal cards and stamped envelopes for the last quarter of 1895 amounted to $20,517,014, making it the largest quarter on record, the year holding the same distinction.

The metal aluminum has not realized what was expected of it in the construction of ships. A British torpedo boat built of one of its alloys has been condemned, and French experiments have had a similar result. The sea water rapidly corrodes the metal, and it then gives way under a slight pressure.

The so-called bimetallic party, which is really a silver monometallic party, ought to consolidate with the populists. The only way the free coiners can keep their vote out of the "scattering" column is by getting together.

A contractor does not have the leeway in autocratic Russia that he does on the Chicago drainage canal. About 2,500 vests of the great Siberian railroad have been completed and the contractors are exactly on time.

England will be slow to make overtures for the purchase of Cuba. This country is in a mood to prove that forty-five populous states are as hard to scare as were thirteen little colonies.

Putting It to Vote.

"I need a new hat," remarked the man who had come in last at the club, "and I don't know whether to get a stovepipe or a Fedora."

"Yes."

TRYING TO BREAK J. AUSTIN'S WILL

Undue Influence Is Charged By The Contestant.

JUDGE CLEMENTSON ALLOWS
AN APPEAL MOTION.

Property In Question is Worth $100,000, and the Matter Will Come Up For Trial at the April Term of The Circuit Court—Heirs Interested in the Estate Deny the Charge That Influence Was Used—Many Lawyers Interested.

A "will case" in which the $100,000 estate of John Austin is at stake is now before the circuit court.

The application of David W. Walworth, the general guardian of William D. O'Brien, a minor grandchild of the late John Austin, for an order allowing him to appeal to the circuit court from the judgment of the county court, admitting the will of the deceased to probate, was heard by Judge Clementson this morning, under a statute which requires an application to be made to the court for a leave to appeal when the party who desires to make such an appeal fails to take it within the next sixty days. The motion, although contested by those interested in the estate, was allowed the court, he stating that as yet he never had refused such an application.

Undue Influence Charged. This action is a very important one, involving property valued in the neighborhood of $100,000. It is claimed by the guardian that Mr. Austin was unduly influenced in making his will by Lavinia Austin, his wife. Therefore, it is claimed the will is void. All of the beneficiaries, excepting the grandchild (William D. O'Brien) deny charges of undue influence, and claim that the will is valid. There are a good many attorneys interested in the case.

Fethers, Jeffries & Field appear for the general guardian, David N. Walworth; Smith & Pierce appear for Emily Wixom; E. F. Carpenter appears for John W. Austin, the executor, and John W. Austin in person; E. D. McGowan appears for Alpheus Austin; Mary J. Robinson, Rachel Whitthall, Elizabeth Hopple, Henrietta Schnell and George Van Antwerp beneficiaries under the will, and J. M. Whitehead as guardian "ad litem" for the minors interested.

Judge Bennett, having drawn the will for Mr. Austin will probably not try the case, but instead it will doubtless come before Judge Clementson at the April term.

SOME SHORT Y. M. C. NOTES.

The first work of Physical Director Keesler will be the organizing of classes, and regulating them so as to accommodate all members. Rules and regulations will be formed to govern the work in the "gym," the bath, and all other parts of the building, so that each and all members may understand from the start what is expected of them.

ENGINEERS DISLIKE THE NEW SYSTEM

C. & N. W. RULE IS NOT A POPULAR ONE.

Some Engineers Take Less Desirable Runs Rather Than Remove From Janesville—Conductors Plan Their Annual Festival—The St. Paul Company Lays New Steel.

The new rule of the Northwestern road in running their engines through from Chicago to Baraboo, is now in force, but local engineers, who are personally interested, are anything but pleased with the change.

"If a man is in the railroad business there is no telling where he lives," remarked an old-time engineer this morning, "for he is no more settled in a town when some new rule changes all his plans. Like 'the wandering Jew' we have no home."

Some of the old engineers, rather than move from this city, have made a protest and will soon be on different runs which will bring them into the city. Engineer Selleck, one of the oldest engineers in the employ of the Northwestern, rather than move from Janesville, has taken the Janesville-Watertown accommodation run, which has been presided over for some time by A. Shekey and numerous other changes are expected to take effect soon.

Conductors' Annual Ball.

Are Laying Steel Rails

The St. Paul Railroad Company has been making a number of improvements in and about the city, and noticeable among them has been the laying of new steel rails, to take the place of those which are rough from hard usage. Foreman George Bennett and crew of this city have had the work in charge and besides the "patching up here and there" they have just finished the laying of four and one-half miles of new track on the Mineral Point division, near Monroe.

"These rails are all of the best quality of steel obtainable," remarked a local railroad man this morning, "and the St. Paul Company are doing the job in first class shape."

Railroad men report the burning of the creamery at Gratiot this morning. It was owned by Elgin people, being one of a "circuit."

SPEAKS WELL OF O. E. GUERNSEY

Dell Rapids, South Dakota Tribune, Tells of an Honor Given Him.

In speaking of O. E. Guernsey's election to the office of president of the Dell Rapids, South Dakota, National Bank, The Tribune, published at that place, says: Mr. Guernsey needs no introduction to the people of Dell Rapids and the patrons of the bank. Besides his interest in the bank he owns considerable property here, including several large farms near town and is therefore as closely identified with the interests of the section as he would be if he were resident of Dell Rapids. He has been in the banking business all his life and has been cashier of the First National bank of Dubuque, the leading bank of that city, for twenty-five years. He is one of the ablest financiers and business men of Iowa and a man of large wealth and influence, being reputed worth from $100,000 to $200,000. He will bring to the bank his large experience in the business, greatly strengthening its management, as well as greatly advance its credit and standing abroad. The First National is one of the strongest financial institutions in the state and a great credit to Dell Rapids, and we believe its sound and prosperous condition will be as gratifying to its many patrons as it is to the stockholders and management.

EUGENIE LOST HER WAGER.

Boxed the Ears of a Royal Guard, but He Did Not Move.

Nothing could be more magnificent than the appearance of everything appertaining to the court on all public occasions. The balls, especially, in the various splendid rooms, particularly in the immense "Salle des Marechaux," were a sight not to be forgotten, from the first entrance, and ascent by the great staircase, adorned with flowers and shrubs, where on each step stood two of the "Cent-gardes" (the emperor's body-guard) as motionless as statues. Nothing was more remarkable than the drill which enabled these men on all occasions when on duty at the palace to remain without moving a muscle. The fatigue of this immobility is said to be so great that it could not be endured beyond a certain time; but it was so complete that to come suddenly on one of these guards in the palace was positively startling. It was scarcely possible to believe that they were alive. They were all remarkably fine men, sub-officers chosen out of various regiments, and when the war came they proved that they were not merely parade soldiers, for they figured among the best and bravest troops. One day the little prince, when a young child, in the hope of making the sentinel move, poured a whole bag of sweets into his boot, but without eliciting any sign of life from the military statue before him. This play of the child being mentioned in the presence of Col. Verly, who commanded the regiment, he declared that nothing could make one of his men move when on duty. The empress would not believe this assertion, and finally laid a wager that she would contrive to make one of the guards move. Col. Verly having accepted the wager, the empress went with him into the neighboring gallery, where they walked backward and forward before the sentinel, the empress trying by every means to attract his attention. The guard stood as if turned into stone. Col. Verly smiled. The empress, with her characteristic impetuosity, then went straight to the soldier, and, according to familiar speech, "boxed his ears." Not a muscle moved. The empress then acknowledged that Col. Verly had won the day, and sent a handsome compensation to the soldier, who proudly refused it, saying that he was sufficiently compensated by having had his sovereign lady's hand on his cheek! SHORTER LIFE FOR LAMPS.

Incandescent Lights Now Run at a Higher Tension.

New York Commercial-Advertiser: A short life and a merry one is to be the guiding principle of the new order of lamp manufacture. At one time an incandescent lamp cost so much that it was made to last as long as possible, even if it had to be run at much below its nominal candle power. Now, lamps are cheap, and people insist on having light. A significant sign of the tendency of the times is that the twenty-five-candle power lamp is daily being put in place of the original standard sixteen-candle-power lamp. It is assumed that when Edison adopted the sixteen-candle power standard for his lamp he took what was probably a very good average of the illumination given out by five-foot gas burners the country over. But during the last fifteen years the gas standard has been raised through improvements in manufacture, and whereas twenty-candle gas was once seldom seen, the larger cities of this country now average well up to twenty-five-candle gas. The public has not been slow to see this, and now demands a unit of light at least equal to the prevailing standard gas unit. The central stations, fortunately for them, realize the situation, and the use of high economy lamps is growing. It is noted, too, that the time-honored 600 hours of life is not nearly so often insisted on as formerly. Indeed, the specific requirement now commonly made is for a lamp that will maintain its candle power at high economy for from 300 to 400 hours. The introduction of lamps of twenty-five-candle power, although already started upon, will doubtless be gradual, as it must naturally be accompanied by a corresponding change in the fittings, outlets, wiring, etc., if applied to existing installations.

Don't Be Too Critical.

Whatever you do never set up for a critic. We don't mean a newspaper one, but in private life, in the domestic circle, in society. It will not do any one any good, and it will do you harm—if you mind being called disagreeable. If you don't like any one's nose, or object to any one's chin, don't put your feelings into words. If any one's manners don't please you remember your own. People are not all made to suit one taste; recollect that. Take things as you find them, unless you can alter them. Even a dinner, after it is swallowed, cannot be made any better. Continual fault-finding, continual criticism of the conduct of this one, and the speech of that one, the dress of the other and the opinions of t'other, will make home the unhappiest place under the sun. If you are never pleased with any one, no one will ever be pleased with you. And, if it is known that you are hard to suit, few will take pains to suit you.

The Threadbare Apology.

"The officer arrested you for being drunk," said the judge, severely; "very drunk indeed."
"Yes, your honor," replied the culprit; "but there were extenuating circumstances."
"What were they?"
"Why, your honor, you see I was under the influence of liquor at the time." Washington Evening Star.

WOMEN WHO ARE MURDERERS.

Inmates of the Neudorf Convent—Sweet, Innocent Faces.

The women of the Neudorf convent prison were all so kindly in their ways, so peaceful and good humored, they differed so completely from our preconceived ideas of criminals, that we were puzzled to imagine what could have brought them into prison, says the Cornhill Magazine. We had never a doubt but that the offenses were of the most trivial nature, and we said so. The superior gave us one of her odd, humorous smiles.

"Did you notice that woman in the corridor?" she asked. "She is Marie Schneider."

That insignificant looking little woman, who had stood aside with a gentle deprecatory smile to allow us to pass, Marie Schneider! Why, in any other place one would have set her down at once as the hard working wife of a struggling curate, so thoroughly respectable did she look. And she is Marie Schneider, a European celebrity with more murders on her conscience than she has fingers on her hands!

"And you let her stay here?"

"We have nowhere else to put her," the inspector, who had joined us, replied, "and we don't hang women in Austria."

Nor is she, as we soon found, the only notorious woman in the place. One of the prisoners is a delicate looking girl, with large, brown eyes and golden hair—a type of beauty almost peculiar to Austrians. She has a low, cooing voice, and a singularly sweet, innocent expression.

"What on earth can that girl have done to be sent here?" I whispered.

"Done," the inspector replied, grimly; "set a house on fire in the hope of killing a man with his wife and five children."

The girl must have had extraordinarily sharp ears, for, although we were standing at some distance away, she heard what he said and she gave him a glance such as I hope never to see again in my life. It was absolutely diabolical; had there been a knife within reach the man would have died on the spot. Yet only a moment before she had been looking up into my face with a smile an angel might have envied.

Several of the prisoners are in the convent for killing their own children; some for killing, or trying to kill, their husbands; others for stealing or embezzling; others, again, for no more serious crime than begging. There are all degrees of guilt there, in fact, and all ages, from girls of 16 to women of nearly 80. And they all live together on terms of perfect equality, for there are no distinctions of rank there—no one is better or worse than her neighbor. When the convent door closes behind them they have done, for the time being, not only with the outside world, but with their own past. They start life afresh, as it were.

TELL-TALE FACES.

PINCHED AND CAREWORN, As Worn by Many American Women.

(SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.) The "tell-tale face" is worn by many American women, and is a symptom of symptoms, a signal of distress.

While women do all in their power to hide their condition, the practised eye soon detects the trouble.

When pains and aches are felt in every part of the body, when faintness, dizziness, and that bearing-down feeling prevail, when loss of sleep and appetite are reducing flesh daily, when the society of friends is irksome, and the hopeless "blues" predominate, then the face is pinched, haggard, and careworn, and prompt relief is necessary, or a beautiful life will be sacrificed.

An American woman, Lydia E. Pinkham, a student of women and their diseases, twenty years ago succeeded in producing an absolute cure for all diseases of women. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands to-day as it did then, pre-eminent.

Mrs. H. Wampler, of Barab, Wis., whose letter we were permitted to publish last year, writes that she hopes Mrs. Pinkham will continue to use her name, as the publication in newspapers of her own wonderful cure and relief from years of misery has been the means of influencing many suffering women to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and become well like herself. Mrs. Wampler feels, and rightly, too, that in this way she is doing a great good.

TRAVELING GROCERIES.

How Tradesmen Seek to Enforce a Florida License Law.

An attack on an important institution maintained by the Plant system has been made at Orlando, Fla. Two employees in charge of the railroad "supply car" have been arrested on the charge of selling goods without licenses. The same complaint has been made in other communities at various times. From the railroad point of view the supply car combines benevolence with business, but the storekeepers of Orlando think it an unwarranted interference with their legitimate traffic.

The supply car has been in use on the Louisville & Nashville system for years. It was introduced on the Plant lines by General Superintendent Dunham. The purpose of the car is to furnish the track hands with supplies, saving them the necessity of losing time in going to market. It is stocked with everything that a laborer requires for his family, and goes over the road twice a month. The men are furnished whatever supplies they want at cost, with 10 per cent added to cover handling. They are not compelled to buy from the car, but it is patronized. Experience has demonstrated that a large army of laborers can be kept very much better under proper discipline if they are furnished with whatever they may need in the way of supplies at their place of work. If the laborer goes to the neighboring towns to buy his supplies, he buys on credit, and very properly the merchant charges him a larger price than he would charge a customer who paid cash. The railroad company does not run the car with the expectation of making any profit on the goods. The person in charge is authorized to furnish supplies to employees only.

The Plant system has in its employ about 1,500 track hands, and this large force keeps in safe condition the 2,000 miles of track. It is necessary that these laborers should be thoroughly disciplined and always at their posts. They are furnished homes, rent free, by the company on the line of road, and the company is now furnishing them supplies practically at cost. The advantages of the arrangement both to the company and the men are obvious.

PERVERTING PROVERBS.

How Many Popular Phrases Have Been Changed from the Original.

Thomas Jefferson did not say in just those words, "few die and none resign." What he did say was: "Of deaths there are few, of resignations none." But his choice of words was less epigrammatic than was that of the nameless multitude, who by tradition shaped the aphorism in its present form.

It is a fact of curious interest that comparatively few of the famous sayings attributed to famous men bear the stamp of form which was given them by their authors. The thought is the same, but somehow the expression seems to have been in each case originally somewhat unsuited for permanent popular currency. They have undergone a process that may be compared to that by which a pebble, at first an irregular piece of flint, capable of striking fire, but not smooth to the touch, has become polished and rounded by continual contact with the running water, the sand and stones and the sudden turnings and twistings of the brook.

For instance, the proverb, "Praise from Sir Hubert Stanley is praise indeed," was originally "approbation from," etc. Bishop Berkley wrote "Westward the course of empire takes its way," but irresistible popular instinct has changed "course" to "star." Even the golden rule, though familiar in its true form, is for every day proverbial usage changed from "all things whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so unto them," into the terser injunction, "do as you would be done by."

Exaggerated Industrialism.

Town and country succeed one another. The train passes at full speed over low bridges, spanning broad rivers which flow between forests—remains of forests, rather—violated, massed forests, whose vigorous vegetation still bears witness to the primitive splendor of this country before "the pale-faced destroyer of forest" had set foot upon it. Rows upon rows of cottages, without gardens, without a single one of those little open-air drawing-rooms in which the French citizen loves to saunter, pruning shears and watering-pot in hand. But where shall Americans find the time to saunter, the time to watch the budding rose trees, to let themselves live? Their rose trees are those vast ever-multiplying factory chimneys. Their gardens are those houses, so rapidly built that a single generation sees them increase fivefold, tenfold and more.

In 1800, New Haven, through which we have just passed, had 5,000 inhabitants; to-day, it has 80,000 and its commerce is valued at more than 150,000,000 francs a year.—Paul Bourget's "Outre-Mer."
